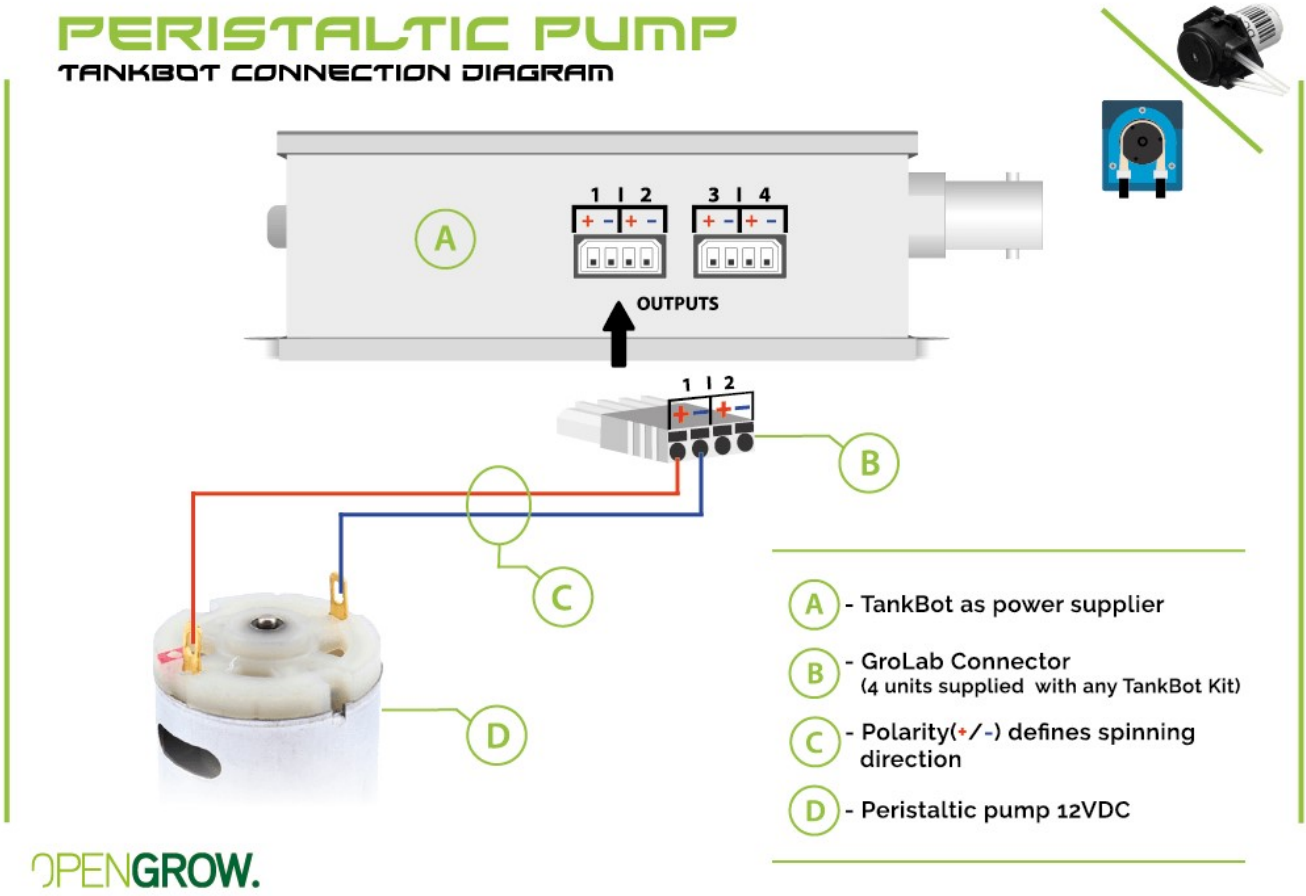
DIY Connection to TankBot

To connect a Peristaltic Pump directly to any TankBot please follow the schematics and pinout bellow to interface this device with GroLab™.

All the Peristaltic Pumps available on our online store are compatible with TankBot.



Pre-assembled Peristaltic Cables

The Pre-Assembled Peristaltic Cable is a solution that we provide to easily connect a Peristaltic Pump to TankBot. These cables are available on our online store with different lengths and they are compatible with any Peristaltic Pump sold on our store.

Below you can find the schematics and pinouts to interface these cables between TankBot and two distinct Peristaltic Pumps.
